Library

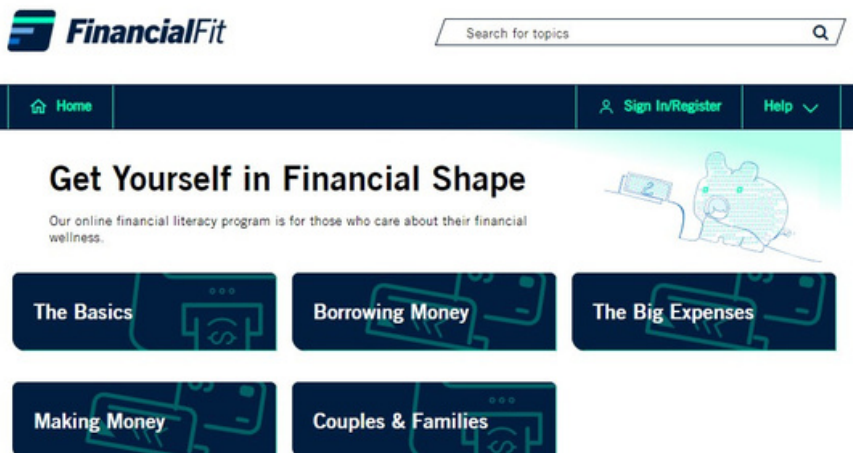

Renovations continue at the library, but we are OPEN!

Have you seen our new glass multi-purpose space? Soon there will be activities in this modern space and faculty, staff, and students will have access to a variety of services, such as tutoring, small group workshops, and professional development.

Paying for college & other life expenses

Financial literacy is the understanding of where your money goes and having the knowledge to make good financial decisions. When you're financially literate, you understand how to allocate your income toward various goals simultaneously—not just to ongoing expenses, but to savings, debt repayment and an emergency fund too. RCC provides students with tools and services designed to help you get control of your finances. Financial stressors can affect every part of our lives, so it is important to create a sound budget and feel confident about your direction for the future.

Try our new FinancialFit database, which includes a curated collection of personal finance lessons to guide learners in making life's biggest financial decisions.

FinancialFit features a bright, modern design and easy-to-identify content categories. The content is personalized to each user's interests and assumes no prior financial knowledge.
